Projects

- Started to work on my own full-stack application that will serve as a dynamic blog, focusing on the realms of art, food recipes and Asian culture while learning and applying web development skills.
For front-end part, I used HTML, CSS and JS. Back-end has only basic functionality, developed with Node.js (using Express framework and SQLite). Entire project was managed with GIT.
Front-end part is hosted here: ana-katic.github.io
Since GitHub Pages does not support back-end part, entire project can be found here: github.com/ana-katic/ana-katic.github.io
